"THE ETERNAL FEMININE" TO FRONT

Most Notable Assembly of Women in World's History at Budapest Tomorrow

WORLD WOMAN SUFFRAGE CONGRESS DRAWS MANY

1000 Delegates Represent 28 Countries—American Woman to Preside

BUDAPEST, June 14.—The most notable gathering of women in the world's history will open here tomorrow with more than 1000 delegates in attendance representing twenty-eight different countries. It is the seventh international congress to be held under the auspices of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance since the formation of that body eleven years ago in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt of New York, president of the Alliance, who has just completed an eighteen months' tour of the world in the interests of the cause, will preside. Among the 100 delegates from the United States are the Rev. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Judge Ben Lindsey of Colorado, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Mrs. Ida Husted Harper, and other distinguished suffragists.

Probably the only important woman suffrage society unrepresented is the Woman's Social and Political Union of England, the leaders of which, although invited, have preferred to continue their campaign of violent militancy to participating in a convention whose avowed object is to achieve the vote for women by constitutional methods. The leader of the British delegation is Mrs. Millicent G. Fawcett, president of the National Union of Women Suffrage Societies, and who is also first vice-president of the International Alliance.

In the Washington congress of 1902 only five countries having a nationally organized woman's movement were represented—the United States, Great Britain, Australia, Norway and the Netherlands. Among the countries represented here today are China, India, Persia, Turkey, Iceland, Finland and Siam, and the delegates include women members of parliaments, mayors, town councillors, school superintendents and leaders in almost every branch of government and social reform.

For the entertainment of the delegates and the accompanying visitors the municipality of Budapest appropriated $2,000, and additional funds were subscribed by the Board of Trade and various social and business organizations. Lord Mayor Stephen de Barsezy took an enthusiastic and active part in making arrangements for the coming of the city's guests and the Austrian and Hungarian state railways ordered a general reduction of fares for the delegates during their stay here of one week. A special opera performance is to be held next week as a compliment to the congress, the regular season having closed tonight.

Subjects for discussion at the business sessions of the congress which will begin Monday morning include Working Women's Rights, the White Slave Traffic, Protection of Mother and Child, Educational Reform, Care of Youth, Household Reform, and Antisocialism. The meetings which will continue through next Saturday will be held in the Redoute, a building beautifully situated on the Danube. The program for the week is: Sunday morning, religious services, Dr. Anna Howard Shaw presiding; afternoon, formal opening of the congress, at which Mrs. Catt will deliver her presidential address; evening, reception. Regular business sessions will be held every morning and public meetings on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The afternoon will be devoted mainly to sightseeing trips, and on Wednesday evening, after the public meeting, there will be a moonlight excursion on the Danube. At the Tuesday meeting a number of the American delegates will give a symposium on "How the vote was won in nine of the American states." Simultaneously with the women's congress, the International Men's League for Women Suffrage will hold a convention under the presidency of Sir John Cockburn of England, and the two congresses will work together and hold several joint sessions.

STARS AND STRIPES ARE PROMINENTLY DISPLAYED

In Santa Ana today hundreds of residences and business houses show that Flag Day is being very generally observed. The method used is the display of flags. Several of the business houses have large, handsome flags aloft. Public buildings are displaying the Stars and Stripes.

'Old Glory' Was Made U. S. Flag 136 Years Ago

NEW YORK, June 14.—One hundred and thirty-six years ago today the Stars and Stripes were formally adopted as the flag of the United States, and throughout the nation public celebrations of the anniversary are being held. The American Flag Association headquarters here today received word from authorities of practically every city in the United States telling of formal programs in honor of the event.

The request from the Flag Association that the President of the United States, governors of all states and mayors of all cities herald the event with a public proclamation was generally heeded. On all public buildings and on millions of private office buildings and residences American flags were flung to the breeze today.

Vandal, a 21-foot raceboat, owned by Irving M. Orr, is the smallest boat entered.

PHILADELPHIA, June 14.—Judging from the attendance at the twenty-one municipal bathing places of Philadelphia which opened today for the season, a great part of Quakertown inhabitants took a day off to bathe. The free wash places were unusually late in opening this season. Attendances say this is the reason so many "went in" today.

WOMEN'S 8-HR. LAW EXTENSION SIGNED

Problem Arises as to Unsigned Bills If Governor Should Be Incapacitated

SACRAMENTO, June 14.—Governor Johnson today signed the Lyon bill extending the eight-hour law for women to include student nurses and employees of lodging houses and places of amusement.

Governor Johnson also signed the "Blue Sky" pipe line common carrier and automobile registration measures, making a total of three hundred and fifty bills out of a thousand bills submitted to the governor, that have been approved to date.

Problem Arises
What would happen to the scores of bills which Governor Johnson wants approved but which are yet unsigned, should he become suddenly incapacitated before midnight on Monday, is causing considerable speculation at the capitol today.

"We would have to put the Governor on the train and rush him out of the state," said Private Secretary McCabe. "As long as the Governor is in the state no one could perform this function."

SUFFRAGETTES IN FUNERAL MARCH

Halt City Traffic With Burial Procession—Dying Words of Dead on Banner

LONDON, June 14.—Traffic in Piccadilly was delayed four hours today by the funeral procession of Emily Davison, the militant suffragette killed by King George's horse, Anmer, while she was attempting to stop it from running in the English Derby. Six thousand male and female militants paraded behind the cortege. Fifty women in white carried banners on which was the inscription: "Fight on; God Will Give Us Victory!" These were Miss Davison's last words.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, under a three year sentence for dynamiting the home of Chancellor Lloyd-George, was rearrested while preparing for the funeral.

CHICAGO SWELTERING TODAY

Letter Purports to Show He Made Promise Not to Molest Beet Sugar Industry

SEPT. 19 GIVEN AS DATE OF THE ALLEGED PLEDGE

Insidious Lobby May Be Prolonged; 1-Man Filibuster May Delay Congress Till Fall

WASHINGTON, June 14.—A real sensation was sprung in the "insidious lobby" probe today when a letter purporting to show that President Wilson had promised before his election that he would not molest the beet sugar industry, if elected was shown. The letter was signed by W. H. Wallace, and addressed to W. R. Hathaway, secretary of the Michigan Sugar Co., of which Wallace is the general manager. The letter said that Wilson made this promise on September 19.

PROBE MAY CONTINUE FOR SEVERAL WEEKS

The declaration that the "insidious lobby" probe may continue for several weeks was made today by Senator Overman of North Carolina, the chairman of the committee. Overman announced that he will seek authority from the Senate to indefinitely prolong the inquiry.

ONE-MAN FILIBUSTER IS CHARGED BY DEMOCRATS

Democrats today think that a one-man filibuster is being conducted by Senator Jones, Republican, of Washington. For the past two weeks, ostensibly to force the majority to give each Republican senator an extra clerk but really a Republican test of the Democrats' ability to "hasten the discussion of the tariff," Jones has been continually calling for a quorum. He expects to force the Democrats to maintain a quorum all summer. Many fear that Congress will be unable to adjourn before September.

BRIDGIE WEBBER KEEPS HIS SECRET

Refuses to Tell Who Stabbed Him; Deed May Mark Beginning of "Scoring Off"

NEW YORK, June 14.—Bridgie Webber, the New York gunman whose testimony aided in the conviction of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, today gave fresh evidence of the grim spirit of the Eastside thug when he absolutely refused to give the name of the man who stabbed him in the back, probably in revenge for his turning informer.

"I know what to tell," he said. It is reported that the attack on Webber is the beginning of a general scoring off against the gunmen who killed Gambler Rosenthal, thus starting a police graft investigation. How Webber was stabbed is a mystery. He was picked up on the street and taken to Bellevue Hospital, where he concealed his identity. "A boy stabbed me in the back," he said, refusing to give details.

FRUIT INSPECTOR FOR 'FRISCO COUNTY ORDERED BY COOK

MANILA, June 14.—Fighting of the fiercest order continued today between American troops and Moro outlaws on the rim of the volcano crater near Bagsag. Latest reports give information that another American scout has been killed and one more wounded. This brings the total of American dead to seven. The Moros still hold one fort at Bagsag which the Americans expect to capture today. The fighting has now lasted three days.

THE OPERA HOUSE IS CONDEMNED, UNSAFE

City Trustees Take Action on Report of Committee of Investigation

Materials Coming to Make Changes Thought to Be Advisable

This morning the City Trustees voted to condemn the Grand Opera House as unsafe until certain repairs in contemplation are made. This action means that the Pastor Russell meeting tomorrow morning and the baccalaureate sermon, class play and commencement exercises of the Santa Ana high school and the graduation exercises of the Santa Ana grammar schools will have to be held elsewhere.

After the Long Beach disaster, the members of the Board of City Trustees were asked if the Grand Opera House was entirely safe. It was stated that for years there had been talk that it was not what it ought to be. Wm. F. Lutz, owner of the building, was called into a conference. He straightway stated that if the building was not absolutely safe he wanted to know it, and if unsafe he wanted to know what ought to be done to make it safe.

By agreement, a committee of five competent men was selected to examine the building. On that committee were Col. S. H. Finley, city engineer, H. Clay Kellogg, civil engineer, F. H. Eley, architect, George Preble, contractor and builder, and H. H. Roper, city building inspector.

After the committee examined the building thoroughly the suggestion was made that a number of supports ought to be added at the back of the auditorium. While the building had been packed as full probably as it ever would be packed, still it would strengthen the building to have certain changes made. One of the committee was of the opinion that no changes need be made.

Yesterday the City Trustees began to make inquiry from the members of the committee, and found that they would not sign a statement that the building is safe.

The position of the committee was gone over in a conference held this morning between members of the committee, the five city trustees, and Superintendent Cranston and W. L. Duggan, president of the school board, representing the schools that had the opera house engaged for four nights of the coming week.

The conference developed that the committeemen did not want to sign a statement of any kind. One committeeman said that the fact that material had been ordered to make certain changes ought to indicate what the committee thought.

The city trustees concluded that the matter had gone far enough, and that until the changes suggested are made the Grand Opera House ought to be closed. Accordingly the order was issued, and City Marshal Jernigan served one notice upon N. A. Lutz, manager of the opera house, and the other on Lutz.

It is understood that the Pastor Russell meeting will be held at Birch Park tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Superintendent of Schools Cranston went to Manager Fowler of the new Auditorium Theater, and engaged the building for the senior class play Wednesday evening. Negotiations were taken up to see if the same building could be secured for the baccalaureate sermon tomorrow night.

HASKELL JURY UNDECIDED YET

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Despite reports that he would not play golf here, President Wilson, garbed in white duck, golfed at the exclusive Chevy Chase links with Dr. Grayson today.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE IS IN EXECUTIVE SESSION

The Republican County Central Committee met this afternoon at the city hall.

Chairman Jackman called the meeting to order. Secretary W. H. Thomas, being a candidate for Judge, was absent, and his stenographer, Stanley, was secretary pro tem.

Roll call showed over thirty precincts out of fifty-nine represented by committeemen in person. Proxies were not allowed.

The rules adopted by the executive committee were read. Those rules excluded proxies, prohibited any man from speaking twice on a question until all who desired to speak had been heard, unless by consent of the committee, and provided that if desired any meeting of the committee can be made executive. These rules were adopted by the committee.

NOTICE SENT TO LESSEE AND OWNER OF OPERA HOUSE

The notice sent to Manager N. A. Lutz and the owner, W. F. Lutz, of the Grand Opera House follows:

Dear Sir:—You are hereby notified that at a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana, following the report of a committee appointed to look into and report as to the safety of the Opera House building at the corner of Fourth and Bush streets, the said building was condemned as unsafe, and you are hereby notified to keep said Opera House closed until such repairs are made to same as will satisfy the Board of Trustees as to its safety.

By order of the Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana, Cal.

FRANK EY, President of the Board of Trustees.
Attest: J. C. BURKE, City Clerk.

MINING PROBE EVIDENCE IS NEAR END

Wives of Miners to Tell Today of Sufferings and Insult During the Strike

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 14.—The end of the Senate investigation of strike conditions in West Virginia mining districts is in sight. Today the wives of the miners will tell of their sufferings and insults during the strike. On Monday the operators will have their innings, and this will close the taking of testimony. Senator Kenyon of Iowa, chairman of the investigating committee, will probably return to the district alone for further investigation.

Former Governor Glasscock was cross examined by the attorneys for the operators, who attempted to show that the first disorder started in the union camps outside the scene of the present strike. The governor said this was true, but insisted that the mine guards caused the trouble by their high-handed methods. The miners were willing to arbitrate at any time, but the operators refused.

Mine Workers in Court

Yesterday the officials of the United Mine Workers of America appeared in the federal court in answer to indictments charging violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The men are accused of conspiring with coal operators of Pennsylvania, Indiana and other states against the coal operators of West Virginia. The unionists admitted the existence of unions, and that they have agreed to carry the case to the supreme court, claiming that the action threatens the existence of their organizations. The federal district attorney has consented to ask Judge Keller to fix the bonds of each of the indicted men at $1000. It is stated an eastern bonding company was to furnish bonds today. No real action was taken yesterday and it is expected the real fight will come in the fall.

LITTLE HOPE FOR INUKON

SEATTLE, June 14.—The revenue cutter Tahoma reports little hope for saving the steamer Inukon, wrecked on Sannak Island, Alaska. All the passengers and forty members of the crew were taken to Unalaska by the Tahoma. Four of the crew remained aboard the vessel in the hope that she might be saved.

COMMISSION ON WAGES REPORTS

Los Angeles Council Hears that $2 Wages Is Disgrace to Community

NO LESS THAN $4 A DAY IS LIVING WAGE IN CITY

Probers, in Burning Words, Made Comparison of Living Wage and Subsistence Wage

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—The commission appointed by the city council three months ago to investigate wage conditions reported today. The report declares there is huge difference between subsistence wage and living wage and declares anything less than a $2 a day wage in Los Angeles is a crying shame. Four dollars is declared to be a living wage in the city of Los Angeles. The report in part follows:

"Your committee finds a vast difference between a 'subsistence wage' and a 'living wage.' If the worker wears second-hand clothing, begged from charitable institutions, scavenges some of his food from garbage cans and street sweepings (as your commission has seen done) and sleeps anywhere and dies early, he can support such an existence on very small wages.

"Anything less than a $2 a day wage is so inadequate here that it is a disgrace, calling for immediate action by the community. We believe $4 a day is a 'living wage' in Los Angeles."

The city council will consider the report next Tuesday.

The commission recommended the appointment of a permanent commission of three with power to investigate wage conditions in the city and to hear testimony and settle individual cases.

JAPAN ASKS FOR RENEWAL OF TREATY

Bryan Pleased; Sees Peaceful End to Dispute; Replies Tuesday to Anti-Alien Matter

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Official notification that Japan desires a renewal for five years of the general arbitration treaty which expires on August 27, was served today on Secretary of State W. J. Bryan by Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador.

Secretary Bryan expressed gratification over the situation, asserting that the indications are that the California anti-alien law dispute will be settled amicably by the two nations.

Secretary Bryan announced later that the reply of the United States government to Japan's rejoinder in the diplomatic correspondence that has been in progress over the California anti-alien law, will be submitted to the cabinet next Tuesday and handed to Ambassador Chinda on the same day.

Entertained Royally And Royalty, Showing Wonders of the South

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, Los Angeles, June 12.—Since writing you last we have been entertaining royally and royalty. Last week we had uncrowned nobility from 29 foreign countries besides Arizona. They came to discuss matters of international importance relative to shipping, immigration and commerce, and to get a side line on our methods of handling the world's trade after the opening of the Panama canal. We treated them quite royally, showed them our mammoth pumpkin display, had them write their names in the big register, and such of them as could withstand the infliction entered the lecture room and heard the story of "A Corner on Climate."

A few days later we had with us several hundred of the commerce builders of the nation; in common parlance, "Brotherhood of Railroad Trainers." They, too, were shown the hospitality of this big-souled institution, and the kindly remembrance of the boys and girls—for a great many of them had their wives or sweethearts with them—will cause a great many vacancies in the train service east of the Rockies. The pleasure fell to my lot to pilot three intelligent members of the "Katy" system through the building, and the way I burned the story of our wealth in "soil and climate" into their bins of intelligence would make a Cayuse
Indian salute his mother-in-law.

I inveigled the boys into hearing me lecture, and before we parted they took a ballot and the vote was unanimous in favor of returning to Orange county in the very near future.

I had the good fortune this week of falling into the company of a King and he has been a jolly rover, too. In times out of mind he has sailed the seas over, from Calais to Dover, and has spent a number of years on the C. Z., but is now located in Santa Ana. The gentleman's first name is John M., and he may be found at Seventeenth and Prospect. Mr. King has friends galore in the canal zone who contemplate migrating. Califor-niawards in the near future, and at his request I am sending a half hundred Orange county booklets. Some go to Calebra, some to Cristobal, and quite a few to Empire and Pedro Miguel. What effect these little leaflets in literary lyrics will accomplish is difficult to foresee, but I am sure they will accomplish enough to justify the penny postage.

A terse old adage says: "A friend in need is a friend indeed," and I have a case in point. For nearly a month Orange county's booth has been barren of the golden fruit.

have enriched Uncle Sam's postal service less than a million dollars in letter postage, and for once in my life I began to despair of the efficacy of my pleadings, but yesterday afternoon's express brought me a box of royal Valencia, the superior of which has never before been on display in this building. And with the shipment came a cluster of thirteen large, perfect oranges packed together like peas in a pod. Now I am supremely happy, contented as a nursling at the breast, for no longer can the other exhibitors point to my empty case with the finger of ridicule.
To add still another drop to my cup of happiness, today's express brought me a fine cluster of loquats, as fine as mother nature in her most liberal mood ever produced. The loquats were donated by my old time friend, C. P. Taft of Orange. The Valencias also came from that district.

Today we had a very sad break in our family circle, the first for so long that the last one has receded from my memory. W. H. Truitt, the man who has talked "Pomona" in season and out, asleep or awake, for the past seven years, and whose tireless talks on a "Soil and Sunshine," have built the "Midway" city from a population of almost all to a dignified municipality of 14,000 honest and contented people. Bill used to tell some stories of Pomona and surroundings that made the stranger stagger and gasp for breath, but when that same stranger makes personal investigation invariably has the goods concealed somewhere under his cloak, and is able to deliver them at the psychological moment. "Bill, you have been a willing, useful animal in the team, and we are going to miss your feet from under our family table, and although you did sometimes aggravate me almost to the point of retaliation by claiming Pomona valley was greater in the production of happiness than Orange county, I realize now that it was only said for effect, and that you did not believe it yourself."

Come and see us often, Bill; the watchdog is tied behind the ash-barrel, and the official "bouncer" is off on his summer vacation.

Frank Wiggins is just now the busiest man out of doors, preparing to entertain the 50,000 or 60,000 Endeavorers who will throng the halls next month. Quite a number of the advance guard have already put in genuine Foley Kidney Pills could have rid J. F. Wallich, Bartlett, Neb., of his kidney trouble. He says: "I was bothered with backache, and the pain would run up to the back of my head, and I had spells of dizziness. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they did the past 93 years, has taken them and they have added years to his life."

Keeping Cheese
To prevent cheese from getting hard, cut a small piece off for present use and place the remainder in cool safe. Spread a thin film of butter over the cut part and cover with a clean cloth. This will prevent that hard, cracked condition which ruins the best of cheese.—St. Louis Republic.

AMUSEMENTS

Auditorium Theater

It is now expected that the new Auditorium Theater will open next Monday evening, as the work has nearly all been completed; scenery up, chairs in place, decorations finished, and a bright musical comedy entitled
"Uncle Joe's Visit," all well rehearsed and ready to go right on with a jingle, snap and bang of catchy music and songs. Two comedians, one very serious individual, two very handsome leading women and ten pretty, rollicking chorus girls make up the company.
This little skit, with several fine moving pictures will make an attractive evening's performance.

THE BRILLIANT STARS OF JUNE

By the end of June, Mars, Venus, Saturn and Jupiter will all be morning stars, but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is at all times the "Star" medicine for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. A cold in June is apt to develop into bronchitis or pneumonia as at any other time, but not if Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is taken. It will surely head off the cold, and heal the inflamed membranes. The genuine in a yellow pack-

BACCALAUREATE SERMONS

Baccalaureate Sunday used to be merely a college affair. The picture had a university atmosphere, with blackgowned seniors gathering in a chapel rich in scholastic associations. Now, even grammar schools have a "baccalaureate Sunday."

But the massing of class forces to hear a message of idealism is a useful function, whether it be the prospective bachelors of arts or the fourth graders just about to receive their diplomas from the primary school.

It is a period when many young people first realize that life is a little different kind of game from what they thought. Heretofore, to paraphrase Mr. Browning, the spirit has worked merely lost arms or legs want play.

Now they have come to a turn in the road. But life is still a game, or it may be to all who have the true zest of living. There is a whole lot of fun in making yourself a better lawyer or a better merchant than your neighbor. If you can only see it.

After graduation the game is a patient working for distant results. When you knock the ball to the far outfield, and your twinkling feet chase around the bases, while flying fielders pursue the work of your skillful bat, you get results immediately, you have "what you want when you want it." When you plant and hoe your corn better than your neighbor, you wait until distant autumn to win your triumph. And there are no howling bleachers to recognize success.

The baccalaureate preacher should discriminate. The deafening voices of the world estimate success in terms of money, automobiles and stately houses. The still small voice puts it in terms of honest labor, kindly friendship, and the serene heart. Choose ye this day whom ye shall serve!

THE BLUFF DIDN'T WORK

A local Progressive, formerly of Kansas, calls attention to the "great harmony meeting" for which they have been preparing in Kansas with much advertisement during the last two or three months. It was a formal effort on the part of the standpatters to tell ex-Republican Progressives back to the old organization. The lists of Kansas leaders present and absent show, by their sharp contrast, the exact measure of success attained.

Among those who attended were Dave Mulvane, the standpat member of the Republican National Committee, who helped materially to accomplish the great fraud at the Republican National Convention last year; Chester L. Long, the standpat ex-Senator; Charles F. Scott, the standpat ex-Congressman; Dan Anthony, the standpat Congressman; Mort Albaugh and George Clark, head of the Republican League that last fall advised all Republicans to vote against all Progressive candidates. These were the men who were engineering the meeting.

Those who were not there included Senator J. L. Bristol; former Governor Northington; Congressman Murdock, Progressive leader of the House; Sheffield Ingalls; William Allen White; Henry J. Allen and a score or more other first class fighting Progressive leaders.

Another prominent leader of the state who was not present was J. N. Doolley who, instead of attending, sent his resignation as chairman of the Republican State Committee, an act which was foreshadowed some days ago by his public announcement that he had joined the Progressives.

It was a regulation old-fashioned standpat Republican meeting. A carefully hand-picked committee on resolutions submitted a platform of glittering generalities vigorously asserting the progressiveness of the Republican party, without a line to explain in what particular the assertion was true. A few of the delegates who would really like to see the Republican party do something to make good its bluff of progressiveness, had the temerity to try to get the resolution committee to write into the platform some words of encouragement concerning the minimum wage, workmen's compensation, widows' pensions, 9-hour day for working women, recall of decisions, and similar items of social and industrial justice. The standpatters, however, promptly suppressed them and the best they could obtain was a feeble endorsement of a makeshift form of initiative and referendum. Even that was fought bitterly by Charles F. Scott, who threatened to take his fight to the floor of the meeting. The other standpatters, however, persuaded Mr. Scott to absent himself from the meeting rather than make that fight, and so the conference finished with the outward appearance of harmony. Not a single thing was accomplished to induce any Progressive in the state to go back to the Republican ranks.

The standpatters had tried to make it appear that Progressives were attending their meeting, by electing delegates in pairs, one standpatter and one Progressive from a district, but the Progressives so chosen saw through the tactics and did not accept their unsought and undesired delegations.

A BRIGHT IDEA

The Register is highly pleased with an idea that is in process of evolution at Riverside. It had its origin in the fertile brain of A. D. Shamel of the department of agriculture, and it is amplified and made public by the Riverside Press, always on the look-out for anything that will boost Riverside. Mr. Shamel is a man of ideas. He had some on the corn industry and worked out an improvement in the strain of corn that has been of untold benefit to the farmers of the middle west. He has ideas on the improvement of the strain of oranges and as a result of his investigations in this matter the citrus industry seems likely to be but on a new basis of permanence and profit.

Mr. Shamel's idea on the best way for Riverside to get the most benefit from world's fair year certainly seems like a good one. The year 1915 will be the 40th anniversary of the bringing of the first naval trees to Riverside, an event which revolutionized the orange business not only of California, but of all other important citrus growing sections; and the event ought to be commemorated in some way. Right here in Riverside are the parent trees, still bearing fine fruit, and the great productive orchards which are their descendants. This, therefore, is the natural place to celebrate this anniversary. Nowhere else in the world is it possible to trace back a great agricultural industry to its beginning and to show the parent stock from which countless trees have come.

Mr. Shamel's idea is that while the San Francisco and San Diego expositions are in progress Riverside should hold a great celebration suggested by the naval orange anniversary. This should include the dedication of a monument to the pioneers in the industry in Riverside on a day devoted to the pioneers and their work. There should be on another day a great historical pageant illustrating the early history and development of the orange industry. Then there should be a horticultural congress which should last for several days. It would be possible to secure as speakers some world famous men who will be drawn to the state by the horticultural and agricultural features of the expositions. The proceedings of such gathering ought to be published in permanent form.

The Register fully endorses this proposition and pledges Riverside its hearty support if the project is undertaken.

CALIFORNIA BIG PRODUCER OF CEMENT

The production of Portland cement in 1912 in the United States was 82,438,996 barrels. This production was reported from twenty-four states, the first ten states, namely, Pennsylvania, Indiana, California, New York, Missouri, Illinois, New Jersey, Michigan, Iowa, and Kansas given in the order of their importance reported 69,682,321 barrels, or about 85 per cent of the total. These states ranged in production from 26,441,338 barrels in Pennsylvania, or over 32 per cent, to 3,225,940 barrels in Kansas, or about 4 per cent of the total. Indiana, the second largest producing state reported 9,924,124 barrels, or 12 per cent, and California, the third state reported 5,974,299 barrels or over 7 per cent of the total. These first three states reported over one-half of the total production.

Redlands is making a vigorous and systematic campaign against the fly nuisance, and the Riverside Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Trustees are co-operating in starting a like campaign. A committee is going to Redlands to learn what they can. This is something about which Santa Ana

"How's your wife this morning?" asked the solicitous neighbor.
"I think she's a little better," replied the worried husband.
"Do the doctors think now that she will recover?"
"They haven't given me much hope."
"Is her fever down?"
"Not at all."
"And yet you think she's improving?"
"Yes. Last night before I retired she called to find out if I was sure I had checked the furnace and locked the back door."

Pickled Peppers

Choose rather large peppers; wash clean, cut off the tops and scrape out all seeds. Fill with a mixture made as follows: To two quarts of finely chopped cabbage add four large onions, about two tablespoonsful of pepper seed, two tablespoonsful of chopped celery, or one-half teaspoonful of celery seed. Pack the peppers as solidly as possible, taking care not to burst them, and press the tops back on. Lay in jars or crocks and cover with hot vinegar. To one gallon of vinegar use about half water if the vinegar is very strong, add four cups of sugar and a teaspoonful of mixed spices; any spice liked extra well can be used. Cover the peppers and set away where cool. They do not need sealing.

Trains Canaries in Prison

Training canary birds to sing in the electric death chamber of the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus is the unique life work of John Atkinson, a murderer serving a life sentence who, being a "trustee," has the privilege of spending in which more than four score condemned men have paid the penalty for their crimes he breeds the little yellow singers. When the birds are at the proper age he first teaches them to fly—first from one arm of the electric chair to another, and then from the death chair to the old galloos above, in another part of the room.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Frenchman An Arabian King

"King Alfred of Arabia," who has reigned since 1878, is really a Frenchman, Alfred German de Brunel, a vicomte by birth, and a traveler by inclination. Struck with the possibilities of the country, he settled in Arabia. At a great meeting held in 1878 the sheiks asked him to accept the royal crown, being unable to agree upon any one of themselves for the dignity.

DRAMA ABROAD AND AT HOME

By Beau Rialto

NEW YORK, June 14.—The roof garden again has come into its own on Broadway. Lew Fields, after trying out his summer jumble, "All Aboard," at Atlantic City (he denied emphatically that there was any connection between "All Aboard" and the Board Walk) gave the show his New York premiere the other night at the Lew Field roof garden, and the Hammersteins already had moved their vaudeville to the roof of the Victoria. Flo Ziegfeld's "Follies" again are appearing on the roof, and several other roof entertainments are running.

In the wake of the real roof garden, fitted up on the tower of skyscraper, hotel or theatre, has come another Great White Way innovation—the roofless theatre. The Globe and several other well-known downtown theatres are now equipped with roofs that can be removed in hot weather when it is fair, exposing the seats to the open sky. The theatres so arranged are thus modifications of the "airdomes" so prevalent throughout the Western circuits a few years ago. The pioneer roof gardener of the theatrical world was the late lamented "Ted" Marks. When he conceived the idea of a real open air theater, the other managers gasped and said it would never do. In those days even the summer theaters, of which Suburban Garden in St. Louis was the first, were roofed, though open at the sides. Marks went ahead and put up his roof garden, with adjustable tarpaulins that could be rolled over the audience in the event of rain. The thing was a go from the start, and the idea spread like wild-fire; every large city in the country was soon boasting its roof gardens. The "airdomes" followed, and now have come the winter theaters with removable roofs. Probably the roof garden achieved its greatest notoriety when Harry Kendall Thaw chose the Madison Square roof to stage the killing of Architect Stanford White. It was that open air theater, high above the head and noise of the city, that the Pittsburgher picked as the place to shoot the man whom Evelyn Nesbit Thaw blamed for her downfall, and when the next morning's newspapers appeared, thousands of men and women in every corner of America, who never before had heard of roof gardens, knew all about them and wanted to see one. The New York roof gardens did it, a land office business that summer.

Some folks think that Ethel Barrymore, the popular young actress, is in her prime, despite the fact that she is very much domesticated and the mother of two handsome and healthy children. Westerners who desire to see her plays hereafter will have to come to New York to gratify their cravings for the Barrymore brand of drama, for she says that never again will she go more than

May Be Too Liberal With Smiles

The girl who smiles too much makes as great a mistake as she who smiles too little, for though she may be only actuated by an honest desire to please, she lays herself open to the charge of insincerity. A smile can transform a plain face into loveliness, but it only does this when it is the outcome of some special emotion and not a mere aimless parting of the lips. "Smiling to order," or on any and every occasion, is fatal to charm, and should be carefully avoided.—Exchange.

Has Finger Prints of All Sailors

J. E. Taylor of Washington holds the silent but inextinguishable identification of every man who has enlisted in the United States navy since 1907. He is chief of the finger print bureau of the navy, and is fast becoming the terror of unscrupulous men who have proved unfaithful in their country's service. His files contain over 130,000 cards, each carrying the unfailing mark of identification of an enlisted man.

Envy Rewarded

"How I envy that volume," said the roguish girl, blushing.
When he saw the point they were both very happy.

The new money washing machine has been installed in the Philadelphia mint by Burgess Smith, its inventor. It weighs 6800 pounds, has a capacity of five thousand notes an hour, and has two parts—one scrubs the note; the second gives it a cold water bath.

a day's journey away from the Colt roof-tree. The little Colts are her excuse. She says that her babies require their mother at night, and she will never act again where she cannot return to them after the performance. That means no more road tours for Miss Barrymore, who in private life is Mrs. Russell Griswold Colt.

Miss Barrymore recently was engaged for a week's revival of her favorite "Twelve Pound Look" at a seaside vaudeville theater, and in the meantime her youngest, less than two years old, caught a severe cold. The family doctor said it looked like diphtheria, and when the frantic mother rushed the tot to a contagious disease sanitarium, the doctor's suspicions were confirmed. To her amazement, Miss Barrymore was told that she herself would have to remain at the hospital in quarantine as long as the child was sick. She promptly cancelled her engagement and also passage to Europe, which she had booked, and said she never again would leave her children for theater or anything else. She will never act again, she says, except in theaters in and around New York. Well, possibly she might go as far as Philadelphia, for there are hourly trains from there to the metropolis. They say that Miss Barrymore's determination to stay to the Colt home is in part due to the fact that there may soon be five in the Colt family.

Everybody's doing it. Doing what? Going in for vaudeville. A Middle Western newspaper cartoonist (never mind his name; that would be telling) heard about all the money that Martin Beck was paying a well known cartoonist for drawing a few pictures twice a day, and he determined to do likewise. He is a good cartoonist, too, and ranks high in his own town. Accordingly he came to New York with a sheet of letters of introduction and made himself at home at the Lambs Club. Then he tackled Arthur Hammerstein and got the promise of a try-out "up in the Bronx." That's where they all try out and few of them get any farther south, but the cartoonist did not know that. He got permission through a Lamb, to use the scene painter's quarters and outfit in a Broadway theater on a Sunday afternoon, and worked up his back drop, which was all the scenery he required. His monologue he had learned at home. The next morning, at the cost of great effort and several dollars, he got his drop hauled out to the suburban theater. They could not even get the thing through the property door. The drop in all dimensions was about four times the size of the entire stage.

"What did you do?" asked a sympathetic friend.
"Do?" yelled the cartoonist. I had the blasted thing hauled to a storage house and then I beat it down to Park Row to get a regular job."

SURPRISE LUNCHEON

First Economics Section Closed Season With a Delectable Spread and Jolly Games

The First Economics Section of the Ebbl yesterday held their last meeting for this season at the home of Mrs. T. A. Winbiger.

The affair was in the nature of a "surprise luncheon," where each member brought ready prepared whatever dish she chose. The surprising result was that out of about sixteen courses, eight were desserts, each one most delectable and the last as good as the first. The place cards were decorated with fragrant little Baby Rambler roses.

After the luncheon, various kindergarten games were played, among which perhaps the most thrilling was "My Grandmother's Trip to Paris," into which the dignified and stately matrons entered with child-like glee.

Linen Shower for Miss Page
Miss Dolly Page continues to be the recipient of many social courtesies in honor of her approaching marriage. One of the pretty events of the week was that given for her by Mrs. Maurice Yarnell, Mrs. J. W. Shand and Mrs. O. K. Fong on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Yarnell. The reception hall was a profusion of sweet peas in the delicate tints were used throughout the rest of the house.

A pretty flower game was the principal pastime, guessing being a feature that resulted in Miss Page winning a pretty prize, a bouquet of beautiful sweet peas. Music was a pleasing feature of the afternoon's pleasure, Miss Page playing several numbers much to the gratification of the company.

But the climax of the occasion was the shower of beautiful linen pieces for the June bride-to-be. The dainty gifts were unwrapped for inspection, and elicited admiring exclamations. A buffet luncheon followed the shower and amusements.

The invited list included the following: Misses Siefert, Gardner, Jessup, Haughton, Claycomb, Brightwell, Walton, Bent, Reinhaus, Minnie Phillips, Virginia Johnston, Garrett, Stocklacker, Rena Stafford, Conkle, Ciccielska, Mesdames Geo. Harper, Harry Warner, C. A. Gustlin, Ella Fyfe, Arthur Williams, Clarence Tedford.

INTERESTING PROGRAM

Eminent Singers to Appear in Concert Under Auspices of First M. E. Church

A very interesting concert program will be given on Tuesday evening, June 17, under the auspices of the First M. E. Church.

Mrs. Alberta Jansen, the soprano soloist of the evening, is a pupil of Alexander Heineemann of Berlin, Germany. Mrs. Jansen's beautiful voice has been heard throughout this state. She is returning to Germany on the 26th inst., where she will coach under Heineemann for a few months before taking up engagements in Europe.

Miss Hilda Nolte is accompanying Mrs. Jansen to Europe. Miss Nolte is a pupil of Prof. Martin Krause of Berlin. She has been visiting relatives in Los Angeles. This will be practically the last opportunity for a California audience to hear these gifted artists.

Miss Nolte's sister, who is a clever young violinist, will appear in the concert. Mr. Ernest B. Rausser, the cello soloist, has recently returned to Los Angeles from an extensive concert tour. He will give Bach-Gounod's Ave Maria, and will also be heard in a trio with the Misses Nolte. Mr. Rausser is an artist of considerable talent, and his name on a program always creates interest.

Walter Hastings Olney is just establishing himself in Southern California. He was for a number of years in London, England, where he was popular as a concert and church singer. Before taking up his studies in Europe Mr. Olney was connected with a dramatic school in San Francisco. In referring to a recital given in San Francisco, the Dramatic Review says: "Mr. Olney's part in the program was most enjoyable, for his voice is rich and well trained, with a sympathetic quality which is most agreeable to hear."

Golgotha, by Conchois, is to be featured in the Santa Ana concert by Mr. Olney. This is a complete story of the Passion play. The poem is in the beginning descriptive. Then Christ's prayer is beautifully portrayed. Next, Christ before Pilate; Christ's prayer continued. The grand finale takes up the cheering of the mob, followed by Christ's last words on the cross.

A splendid program is promised by the artists.

Famous Soloist to Sing

Mr. Walter Hastings Olney, the eminent baritone soloist of the Olney Concert Company, will sing at the First M. E. Church Sunday morning and again in the evening at the Baccalaureate services at the opera house.

Piano Recital

Pro Bono Social

The Pro Bono Social of the United Presbyterian Sabbath School held an entertaining social last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kellogg, 821 Orange avenue. Nearly fifty members and friends were present and from the beginning of the evening's entertainment to the end everybody had a lively time.

The devotional service was led by Harry Dean. The committee on entertainment was Mrs. Tidball, Mrs. J. E. Kellogg and A. A. Morrow, and they were most successful in arranging for a very pleasant and social time, which consisted of songs, readings, guessing contests, etc. The main feature of the evening's entertainment was the "Flag Day" idea. The decorations were of flags, there being flags of every description and flags everywhere. Each guest on entering the house was given a pretty little silk flag to wear.

Flags of all the different nations were scattered around the various rooms, and each person, being given a pencil and pad of paper, was asked to guess what nation each flag represented. This and other contests were instructive as well as entertaining. Two large jardiniere of flowers arranged in colors of red, white and blue formed the floral decoration. Last but not least were the excellent refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee which were served by the committee. Mrs. Prince, Mrs. A. H. Morrow, Mrs. J. E. Kellogg and Mrs. W. H. Stevenson.

Greetings of the class were extended to a former member, Mrs. D. L. Kimple, of Colville, Washington, who at present is visiting in Southern California and who was present last evening as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Samson.

Why do so many men imagine they don't look well in a cap? Maybe they never had the right cap.

Our caps are making these men change their minds, particularly the caps we sell at $1—they're going like the "lightning express."

Small wonder—they have a "look" and "style" about them that rests well on the head of any man—and a "Quality" you wouldn't expect for less than $1.50, that's what they would cost elsewhere.

But such caps cannot be had elsewhere, in STYLE and LOOKS.

greatly enjoyed both program and the refreshments of cake and ice cream that were served later. The G. A. R. auditorium and banquet rooms were profusely decorated with flags.

A pleasant gathering was held yesterday at the residence of Mrs. J. G. Quick by the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church. A brief program was given including piano numbers by Misses Samby and Wiessman, and readings by Mrs. McMath and Mrs. Jayne of Box 6.

Elected New Officers

The annual meeting of the American Woman's Republic yesterday was an important one for this organization. An efficient and most faithful corps of officers vacated their places and the following ladies were chosen to fill them for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. R. E. Hewick; vice president, Mrs. Mary Stanley; secretary, Mrs. Eckhardt; treasurer, Mrs. Katherine Bradford; corresponding secretary and parliamentarian, Mrs. Jessie V. Rowland.

Boards of managers for the exchange and trustees for the chapter were chosen.

Mrs. Rowland, the retiring president, after two and a half years of most devoted service, disappointed the ladies by declining to be re-elected at this time, promising to serve them at some future time. She was presented with a solid silver jelly server and pie knife, the ladies claiming they thought of her husband, "Billy," when they selected the pie knife, knowing every man's fondness for pie. Following business and the presentation, the hostess served the dearest of refreshments, being assisted by Mesdames Chandler and Stanley.

The ladies hope in the near future to establish a chapter house of their own that will be a credit to Santa Ana. Until then Mrs. Rowland has offered the ladies her beautiful home as a club house at which place the ladies look forward to many pleasant gatherings the coming year.

Mrs. Rowland presented the chapter with a purple and white pennant. For this and many other acts of kindness she received a rising vote of thanks. Mrs. Rowland will join her husband in the north for a much needed rest.

Economics Section

The hostess assisted by Mrs. C. W. Burns, Mrs. W. S. Decker and Misses Cordray and Blanche Tiede served refreshments of corn fritters and maple syrup, bananas and nut salad and coffee.

Sweet peas adorned the house and there was a large attendance of members. Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. F. H. McElree, president; Miss Beulah May, vice-president; Mrs. W. S. Syester, secretary; Miss Percy Head, press reporter.

A LESSON OF INDUSTRY AND THRIFT LEARNED IN ITALY

MILAN, Italy, June 14.—On a dry and gravelly soil farmers of this district harvest as many as nine forage crops in a single year, according to statements made by agricultural experts to members of the American Commission on Agricultural Co-operation today. The secret of the extreme fertility of this region lies in the system of irrigation, which was shown to the Americans.

In the days when Milan was a powerful independent power, the victories of the Milanese troops were celebrated not by statues, but by the more sensible idea of building canals or irrigating systems. As a consequence the country about this city is honeycombed with irrigation ditches. About twenty years ago, a plant was erected by the government to carry the sewage of the city into these ditches. From the main canals the sewage charged water is carried through the irrigating ditches into the fields.

This water spreads thinly over the fields and since it has a comparatively high temperature the fields are kept green and productive for all except about forty days of the year. Despite the fact that the winters are comparatively severe. The heavy forage crop which this system makes possible is responsible for the great development of the dairy industry of this district. Large quantities of cheese and condensed milk are exported each year to countries which have better natural facilities for dairy products than the country about Milan.

Even the street sweepings of the city are used to increase the productivity of the neighboring farms. Bones and other refuse matter of a similar character are used in the manufacture of fertilizers, and the manure is sold to the farmers engaged in intensive agriculture, principally in raising silk worms. The fertilizer sales are insufficient to meet the expenses of operating the system. The cost balance is made up through taxes.

Abundant labor is needed to obtain the agricultural results which the statistics of this district show. But progressive methods are also depended upon. American farm machinery is frequently seen by the American visitors to northern Italy. Where such intensive cultivation is practiced it is profitable to use large quantities of fertilizers and manure. To the south of Milan where most of the irrigated lands are situated the farms are about 250 acres. The principle industry of these farms is dairying, the herds averaging from 100 to 150 cows. The milk is used in cheese making chiefly. The American Commissioners were shown some excellent types of co-operative dairies which are peculiarly fitted to the type of farmer in that district who can not profitably make his butter and market his produce alone as his farming is on too small a scale.

The fact must not be lost sight of that the Italian farmers are progressing and that their progress is based upon thrift. The lesson learned by the American Commission in Italy has been a lesson in industry and thrift.

"DON'T BURN YOUR STRAW" SAY UNIVERSITY EXPERTS

Don't burn straw. Feed your straw to stock, or at least plow it under to improve the soil. This is the practical piece of conservation policy the experts at the University Farm are urging upon the farmers of California. Lack of rain during the past winter has brought it to pass that the prospects are not very promising for the 1913 grain crop in many parts of the state. Soil treatment and time of planting, say the University Farm people, have also influenced this point considerably, and account in part for the lack of uniformity in yields even on the same ranch, the earlier planted fields having benefited this season because of having had the advantage of the first rains. Summer fallowed land as a rule is making a better showing because of the reserved moisture which was stored up through such treatment. On certain ranches in the vicinity of the University Farm little of a crop is expected except what will be put up as hay, and as a result the dairymen and stockmen on these ranches are confronted with a probable shortage of feed, and are already somewhat concerned. The fall and winter feed outlook emphasizes the necessity of a conservation of the resources at hand. The value of grain hay is recognized by most California farmers but regardless of the fact that they make a good roughage, oat, barley, and wheat straw are used to a very small extent. The common practice on many farms where grain is raised is to harvest the grain with a combined harvester, scatter the straw over the fields, and later rake it into piles or windrows to be burned. Even the benefit of returning the straw to the soil is ignored, and in return for that which is removed in the form of grain and straw, nothing is returned which can be used as a part of the plant food supply for next year's crop, or which will improve the soil physically.

At the University Farm, the best yielding fields are being cut with a binder, and the fields which are not so abundant, but on which the grain is short, are cut with a harvester. All of the straw will be saved and used as part of the roughage in the ration of some of the farm stock. In this way there will be some return to the soil in the form of manure. Straw cannot be used as the sole feed for farm animals, although horses which are idle, can subsist almost entirely on a good grade of clean, bright straw. It should be used, say the University Farm authorities, in connection with some grain, either oats or barley, both of which are available. As a roughage oat straw is more valuable than barley straw, and wheat straw is the least valuable of the three.

No straw should be burned. If it is not to be used for feed or for bedding, it can be plowed under to advantage, especially in soils which are heavy and in need of humus. Humus makes a soil loose and open and more easily tilled. A soil containing the warmer amount of humus holds water better than one which lacks this material, there is less danger of puddling, and in the hot summer the surface heat is decreased. At the best the successive cropping of land to a grain crop tends to a depreciation of the soil, and when the straw is burned there is an additional loss. If some return can be made for the elements which are removed by the crop, the soil will benefit thereby. Prolonging the fertility of the soils is conserving one of the nation's best resources.

BIG IMPROVEMENTS FOR LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, June 14.—Some notable improvements have just been completed and are still in progress at this popular resort. Water has been turned into the pipe system laid by L. N. Brooks for his subdivision on the bluff between Laguna and Arch Beach, and the streets have been graded in the subdivision.

At last "Old Laguna" is to have an adequate water system. Joseph Yoch has piped water from the old Laguna spring, three miles up the canyon into town, and by next season will have a complete pipe system established for the original Laguna tract.

Improvements on the Cliffs

The Laguna Land & Water Company is excavating a reservoir 30 by 8 feet to hold a storage supply of water. This will be completed at a cost of about $20,000, and will guarantee the Cliffs a continuous source of supply.

The company is preparing to oil streets on the cliff, and surveyors are working on the foot of the Cliffs at the foot of the hill. This will comprise 25 acres. A. B. White of Corona is doing the surveying.

Marine Laboratory

The concrete foundation is in and the frame work up for the marine laboratory being erected at Laguna Beach by Pomona College. The main building will contain a large glass aquarium in which will be gathered all the forms of marine life for which Laguna Beach is so famous. The other half of the building will be utilized as a laboratory for the use of the students. It is expected that a class of 25 will be occupied this summer at Laguna and subsequent inquiries from eastern colleges indicate that they propose sending students here for study. The building is being erected by Geo. Freble of Santa Ana at a cost of $5000.

Excursion Boat Building

Contractor L. H. Tower is hard at work on a 35-foot gasoline launch, which is to be put into commission about July 1. The boat is being built for Percy Thelan of Santa Ana, and will have a capacity of 30 passengers. It will run to Avalon, Long Beach and Newport. A pier will be constructed in Fisherman's Cove for the benefit of the new craft.

Assessments Due

E. J. Jahnke, secretary of the Laguna Beach Improvement Association, desires it known that the $1 assessment required annually of members is due and payable to him. The extent of the annual cleanup will be dependent on the amount of collections.

Building Activity

Hugh Boyle of Seattle has moved into the attractive new bungalow just completed on the 5th.

Mrs. Wildig of Long Beach has just completed her two story chalet with cement and garage.

Miss Orr of Pasadena is building an attractive new home at Arch Beach.

R. C. Bennett of Los Angeles has contracted for a new bungalow on the Cliffs.

Arthur Johnson of Fullerton, Roy Hill, a Long Beach plumber, and Miss Xirfa Towner of Los Angeles, have completed new bungalows on the Cliffs.

Sinking Oil Well

A San Diego company is sinking a test oil well in the hills about four miles south of Laguna, and is down something over 3500 feet. It is reported here that oil bearing strata have been passed through and that indications for a good oil supply are good.

Scenery Unfamiliar

A train was rushing along through some swamps in northern Indiana. The track was fringed on either side with "cat-tails," literally thousands of their brown heads bobbing around in the breeze. A small boy was evidently city-bred, for he presently exclaimed "Mamma, I didn't know that sausages grew in that way."—Chicago Herald.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The effects of warm weather were shown in the vegetable market yesterday, nearly all important lines declining. The demand has fallen off considerably—just the opposite of the fruit market, which exhibits firmness owing to the heavy call, except where the supply is excessive.

There was a pronounced slump in the bean market, which was oversupplied. Corn was cheap, selling as low as $2 a sack in some instances. Squash was also plentiful and cheap. New potatoes were easier, although the old stock continues to show firmness. Tomatoes are a little cheaper, as receipts from Imperial Valley have lately been larger. It is estimated that about 200 cars are received on the average daily. The new crop of gum does not come in very freely as yet, and the vegetable commands a rather high price. Telephone peas from the North were expected, and it was believed that they would bring about 7 cents a pound. The new local crop of peas is beginning to come in.

Cherries were abundant, and showed a slight decline, although the demand holds up very well. Apricots were somewhat firmer. A few Ceylon plums, of better appearance than those usually received, were offered at $1.50 a box. Peaches were about the same as usual in price, although the supply and quality is steadily improving. Berries were rather firm. A limited quantity of loquats are still received.

Butter was firm, with lighter receipts. Eggs showed a slight advancing tendency. Supplies are limited. Some varieties of cheese firmed a little.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

LICKING OUTLAW COST BOYS $30

Horse a Demon But Neighbors Said They Tired of Continuous Performance

TOOK PUNISHMENT TO MAKE HIM GO

A. H. Wilber Arrested Yesterday on a Charge of Issuing a Worthless Check

Every time they start him out. The boys keep licking that horse about.

We don't care if he is no count. They've gotta quit licking that horse about.

There is a horse on East Seventeenth street who has a mighty bad reputation, and he deserves it. Kindness won't work on him. A buggy whip doesn't seem to do any good. In fact, he is an outlaw, a real heathen.

His disposition has cost him many a licking, and has cost his owner, Dr. Charles L. Bryan, around $225. This morning the animal added a new chapter to his career of devilry. Because of him, John H. Bryan and Henry J. Myers were fined $15 apiece in Justice Cox's court.

It was along about six months ago that Dr. Bryan stopped at an auction sale in Los Angeles and picked out a good looking animal, bid for him and got him. His name is Berkie. It ought to be Buckle or Bucky or Beast. They say he is a wonder.

A short time ago G. A. Whidden swore to a complaint charging two young men, John Bryan and Henry Myers, with cruelty to the horse, this self-same Berkie.

This morning Deputy District Attorney Koepsel put on as witnesses Mrs. C. A. Phelps, George A. Phelps, Mrs. M. A. Morrison, who said the men took turns using the whip, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. New, who said the horse was hit over the head and that the whipping continued for ten or fifteen minutes. It was alleged that the horse was started from the barn with the two defendants in a cart. He backed, reared and balked. Then he went a few rods. Then he balked, reared and fell over. Then is when the whip was applied, judgment as to how severely differing according to opinion of Berkie's disposition and the proper methods of handling a stubborn broncho.

Bryan and Myers stated that they had applied the whip, but that the only way to handle the horse was by the whip. Dr. Bryan gave similar testimony concerning the horse. Other character witnesses were called. They all said Berkie was a bundle of concentrated meanness. Harold Holzgrafe said he knew the horse to be a bad 'un. Otto Rohrs helped drive him the first four times he was taken out, and according to Rohrs kindness did not work at all. The more kindness given the horse the worse he got. The only thing that seemed to have any effect upon him was punishment, and that did not help much.

E. E. Criddle, W. F. Wendelken, F. R. Frazier and Mrs. Frazier testified that on the occasion when the horse fell down they saw and heard some whipping but only a few licks. They saw no club used.

Attorney Clyde Bishop wanted the court to see the horse. Dr. Bryan also wanted the court to examine the horse to observe that no blow had been drawn in the punishment. Dr. Bryan said he had kept the horse within reach for that very purpose. Automobiles were taken to the place and the balky, bad Berkie was examined with critical eyes. True, his hide seemed to be quite smooth.

Attorney Bishop stated that Dr. Bryan was going to get rid of the horse, send him to the country.

"I must find these defendants guilty," said Justice Cox. "The neighborhood was getting tired of the continual and unsuccessful attempts to break this horse. I'll fine the defendants $15 each."

Check Trouble

A. H. Wilber was arrested at his home at 601 Cypress street yesterday afternoon on a complaint charging him with issuing a check upon a bank when he had no funds therein. Wilber has been working for Wilcox at Myford. It seems that a few days ago he went to the First National Bank and deposited $15. He drew a check for $3 on himself. He gave the Tustin Grocery Co. a check for $15. He gave R. J. Harding of the Iowa Stables a check for $12. When Harding presented the check at the bank it was returned marked "no funds."

Wilber declares that he had given the grocery company the $15 check with the instruction that it should not be presented for thirty days, and he says the prompt presentation of that check was what caused his account to be put to the bad.

Charge of Theft
Under Sheriff Law and Constable Heard went to Los Alamitos yesterday and arrested Guadalupe Martinez for Los Angeles officers. It is charged that Martinez and his wife stole several bolts of cloth from Antonio Sanchez, a peddler, at Artesia. The cloth was turned over to the Moreno sisters at Los Alamitos and was being made into clothing when proceedings were stopped by Martinez's arrest.

REV. FRED STAFF IS DINNER GUEST OF THE BROTHERHOOD

A complimentary and introductory dinner was given by the Men's Brotherhood at the Congregational church last evening, the guest of honor being Rev. Fred Staff, the new pastor of the church.

The ladies of the church prepared and served the dinner, and it is needless to say that it was fine. President Tedford said the dinner was arranged for the general purpose of good fellowship, to greet the new pastor and awaken or revive the Brotherhood which had been sleeping or dead.

He called on Mr. Staff to say what was in his heart to say, and the pastor responded most felicitously and feelingly and finally launched into a most forceful outline of his ideals of church and work and life. He impressed all who heard him with his facility of expression, his culture and his earnestness. He has the faculty of imparting his enthusiasm, and all were aroused to renewed determination to do something for the church for the community and for the Master. Others who responded to calls by giving brief talks were W. H. Thomas, a visitor from the Christian church, E. M. Nealley, J. P. Baumgartner, J. A. Cranston, C. H. Stearns, W. H. Crose and E. F. Rexford.

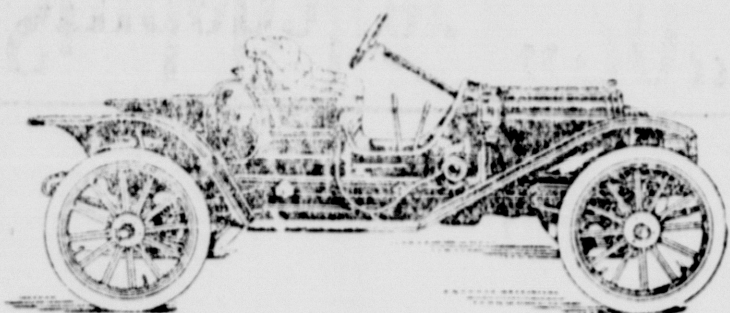

A concrete result of the meeting was a unanimous resolution to reorganize the Brotherhood and go to work in earnest. W. B. Tedford was re-elected president and C. L. Chapman was chosen for secretary-treasurer.

HER SHARE IN THE WORK

She had made him a present of a pair of green, red and blue carpet slippers for his first birthday since their marriage, and he was in ecstasies over them. "I know you'd like them, Harry," she smiled, "if for no other reason than that I made them all myself." "What!" exclaimed Harry. "You don't mean to say that this is all your work? Great Scott! What a genius of a wife I've married!" "Of course," qualified the young wife. "I bought the uppers, and Mary sewed them together, and I got a man to sole them, but I put on the bows and did them up in the box, and, do you know, Harry, I think you ought to be very proud to have such a practical little wife."

And he was.
